Russische importboycot groenten en fruit: 670.000 ton minder

Maar voor 10% gecompenseerd door import uit andere landen

De Russische import van verse groenten en fruit is met een kleine 8 miljoen ton in 2014 6% achter gebleven bij die in 2013. Toen werd bijna 8,5 miljoen ton ingevoerd. In 2012 ging het ook om 8 miljoen ton.

In de periode voor de boycot van import uit EU en een aantal andere landen was de import in het afgelopen jaar wel wat groter dan in 2013. In de periode augustus-december is er bijna 20% minder ingevoerd.

Voordat de boycot van kracht werd er overigens ook wat minder ingevoerd vanuit de landen waarvoor de boycot vanaf begin augustus gold. Andere landen konden toen ook al wat meer aan Rusland leveren. Dit blijkt uit voorlopige cijfers van de Russische douane.

Turkije heeft in hoeveelheid het meest geprofiteerd

Het land dat het meest geprofiteerd heeft van de boycot is Turkije. Vanuit dat land is er in de periode augustus-december bijna 140.000 ton ofwel 25% meer in Rusland ingevoerd. Volgens gegevens van de Russische douane is er in heel 2014 ruim 1,38 miljoen ton verse groenten en fruit uit Turkije ingevoerd. De Turkse exportstatistiek geeft een vrijwel identiek cijfer voor de Turkse export naar Rusland, nl. 1,33 miljoen ton.

Andere landen die geprofiteerd hebben van de boycot zijn China (+10%), Wit Rusland (+35%), Servië (+36%), Argentinië (+68%), Oekraïne (+38%), en Macedonië (+228%)

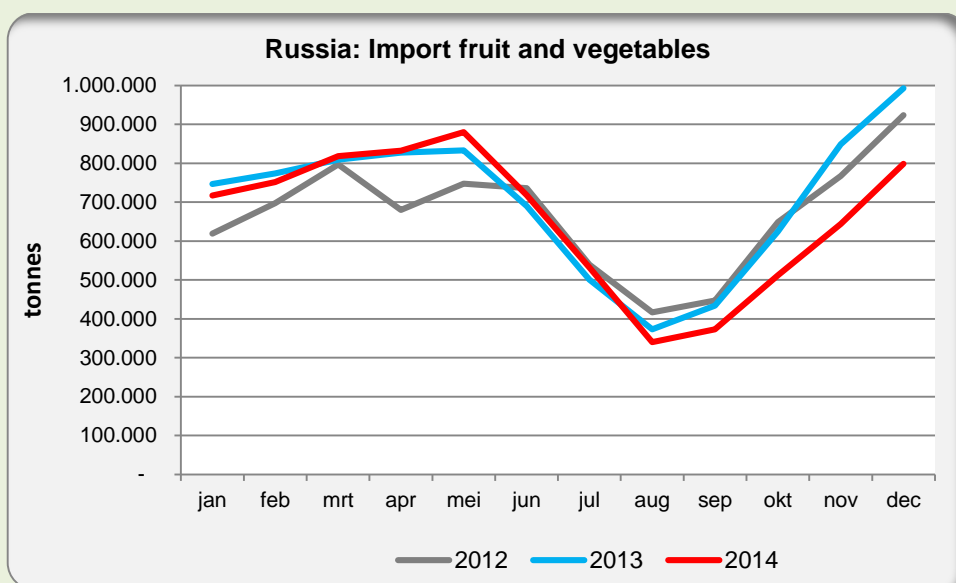

Gat bij appels en tomaten niet opgevuld

Overigens is het gat dat door de boycot is geslagen voor een aantal producten bij lange na niet opgevuld. De import van appels bijv. was in de periode augustus-december in 2014 maar 250.000 ton groot tegen nog 450.000 ton in dezelfde maanden van 2013. De import van tomaten was in de boycotmaanden in 2014 194.000 ton groot tegen 274.000 ton in 2013. Bij peren ging het om resp. 95.000 en 154.000 ton.

Ook niet door andere producten

De mindere import werd overigens ook door geen enkel ander product gecompenseerd. Zelfs de import van het belangrijkste product bananen uit Ecuador bleef in de boycotperiode in 2014 achter bij de import in 2013.

Zodoende was de Russische import van verse groenten en fruit in de periode augustus-december 2014 bijna 20% kleiner dan in dezelfde periode in 2013. In hoeveelheid gezien ging het ruim 600.000 ton die minder werd ingevoerd, 440.000 ton vers fruit en 160.000 ton verse groenten.

Vooraf veel minder uit Polen

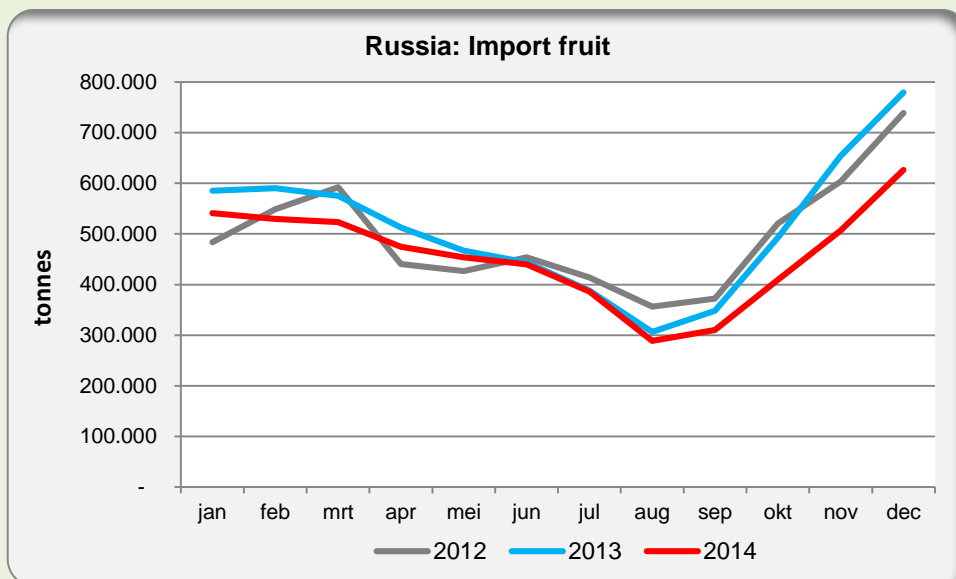

In hoeveelheid gezien is vooral de import vanuit Polen sterk gedaald. Voordat de boycot begin augustus van kracht werd er al 175.000 ton (-24%) Pools product in Rusland ingevoerd. Nadat de boycot van kracht werd, is er nog eens 240.000 ton minder Pools product naar Rusland gegaan. In heel 2014 dus ruim 400.000 ton Pools product dat er minder in Rusland kon worden afgezet dan in 2013. Voor driekwart gaat het hierbij om appels. En verder om sluitkool, tomaten en peren. Als de boycot van kracht blijft verliest Polen in de periode januari-juli dit jaar een markt voor 600 a 700.000 ton verse groenten en fruit.

Over heel 2014 toch meer uit Nederland door grote hoeveelheid uien in eerste helft 2014

Over heel 2014 is de Russische import van verse groenten en fruit uit Nederland toch nog groter geweest dan in 2013. Dit kwam door de grote import van uien in de eerste helft van 2014. Maar ook de import van tomaten en relatief gezien vooral die van peren en sluitkool uit Nederland liep goed in de eerste acht maanden van 2014.

In totaal werd in 2014 270.000 ton verse groenten en fruit uit Nederland ingevoerd.

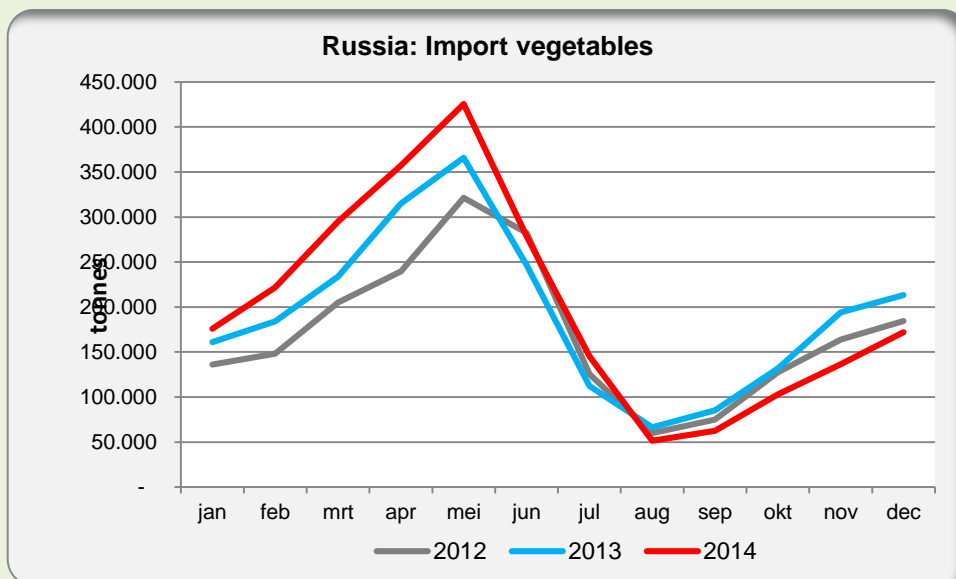

Turkije en China leverden niet meer appels en tomaten

De producten die Turkije in de tweede helft van 2014 vooral meer kon leveren waren soft citrus en druiven en verder ook citroenen, sinaasappelen en komkommers. En opvallend genoeg niet tomaten. Ook China wist in de tweede helft van het jaar niet extra veel tomaten in Rusland af te zetten. Ook de Chinese appelexport naar Rusland was in de tweede helft van 2014 niet veel groter dan het jaar er voor. China wist wel aanmerkelijk meer peren in Rusland af te zetten.

Vanuit Wit Rusland werden in de tweede helft van jaar wel veel meer appels, tomaten, peren, peen en sluitkool in Rusland ingevoerd.
